Rochester Hills teen's original Valentine's Day song chosen for national play

An original Valentine's Day song written and recorded by Rochester Hills teen singer/songwriter, Olivia Millerschin, is now airing in Kohl's (NYSE:KSS) stores nationwide.

She'll perform the single, "Screw Valentine's Day," at City Winery in New York City on Feb. 17 when she opens for musician Howie Day.

The song is a tribute to those without a significant other for Valentine's Day, the "single status, hopeless romantics," as the song lyrics say.

"When I wrote the song, I was in the middle of a breakup and needed a laugh," said Millerschin, an 18-year-old Rochester Hills resident.

The song is one of 11 singles on Millerschin's first full album, "Yes. No. Maybe

So," that debuted in the spring, 2013. It was listed #7 on Ann Arbor's 107 One "Top 100 albums of 2013," by John Bommarito, host of Acoustic Brunch.

The album combines elements of pop, jazz, soul and folk with witty lyrics and playful harmonies.

"I'm busy working on my next album, a five-song EP, that I plan to release in April, 2014," said Miller-schin.

"I plan to launch a PledgeMusic campaign ... to allow fans to contribute to the production of my album and my tour later this year," she continued.

"For being a part of the campaign, I'm giving away a lot of great gifts and I'm also contributing a portion of the proceeds to a charity."

Other recent accomplishments for Millerschin include:

- Signed a music licensing contract with NYC-based BMG-Fieldhouse Music
 - Named a finalist in the 2014 "Rising Stars" category by the LA Music Critics Awards
 - Named a "Star to Watch" by Lemonade magazine
 - Nominated for three 2013 Detroit Music Awards
 - Completed a cross-country tour with musicians Teddy Geiger, Tyler Hilton and Ryan Cabrera and has performed at several colleges, festivals and charity events across the U.S.
- Millerschin is a 2013 graduate of Rochester Adams High School in Rochester Hills.
